

REVIEW OF BOOK LOVERS

Do you really have the emotional resilience to leave a checklist unchecked?

This book is sweet and funny. I did actually laugh out loud several times while walking down the street listening to it. And of course I find the highly-organized, city-people characters relatable.

Also, Julia Whelan does a great job with the audiobook. I'm not sure where I recognize her voice from—probably both The Invisible Life of Addie LaRue and Educated—but I think her name is going to be on my short list of favorite narrators now.
